SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The object is associated with transmission passage of waves of some sort. There is rotation -- constant rotation. The rotation never moves in the same direction consistently there is fluctuation or surging forward and then in reverse.

I saw a metal with a crystalline texture or finish adhering to a flat surface. There are braces in every corner of these flat surfaces.

Once again, the object did not appear to be inside any structure -- it gave me the impression of suspension or being suspended. Again, I did not see any people inside the object or around it. (The purpose of the object is scientific, exploratory, electronic.) AD
